Wine & Dine in Tuscany

For 2

Cortona, Italy

Cortona is a hilltop town in southern Tuscany and is best known as the setting for the book and movie *Under the Tuscan Sun. It is a small and charming village enclosed by stone walls dating back to Etruscan and Roman times. One of the jewels of Tuscany, this hill town is magnificently positioned between Arezzo, Perugia, Florence, and Siena, and sits right between the Chianti region and Umbrian valleys. A few of the top attractions include the Diocesan Museum, the Santa Margherita Sanctoray and the Girifalco Fortress.

Enjoy a 6-night stay in a 1-bedroom, 1-bathroom accommodation, complete with a kitchen and living space. Delight in an educational wine-tasting of four different varieties of wine from a local vineyard and savor over a 3-course dinner and bottle of wine to share.
